

THE HISTORIAN AND THE ARCHIVE

A roundtable discussion with Toronto-based archivists, reflecting on the relationship between archives and history

October 29th
2:00-4:00PM

NDZ Room
Dept of History
Sidney Smith 2098

Food will be served. All are welcome.

PARTICIPANTS

Seika Boye is the Director for the Institute of Dance Studies, University of Toronto. She is invested in movement histories and the archive. Her current research explores blackness and dancing in Canada.

Sean Smith is a Senior Archivist with the Archives of Ontario.

Amy Bowring is Director of Research at Dance Collection Danse, a national resource centre and repository for Canadian dance history. She teaches dance history at Ryerson University.

Moderated by Sean Mills, Associate Professor and Canada Research Chair in Canadian and Transnational History, University of Toronto.